Dear Mr. D'Antico;

Regarding your question concerning which District manages the Austin Post Offices, including the mail deposit boxes at the General Mail facility at 8225 cross Park Dr., Austin, Tx., 78710, we are under the direction of the Rio Grande District, which was formerly known as the San Antonio District. The name changed approximately a year ago.

The District instructions established by the San Antonio district of the United States Postal Service apply to mail collection at the above-identified facility, including District instruction number CSS-95-BC/S-011 concerning Express Mail shortpays, which has been in effect here since January 21, 1995, and was accordingly in effect on January 19, 2001.

Hope this answers your questions.

Sincerely,

Lee Howard
